Rule 161A

Title: Exemption in Labelling and Packing Provisions for Export of Ayurvedic, Siddha and Unani Drugs

Jurisdiction: India

Category: Standards

Source Citation: Drugs and Cosmetics Rules, 1945, Rule 161A

Plain English Summary:

Rule 161A allows Ayurvedic, Siddha and Unani drugs manufactured for export to follow the labelling and packaging requirements of the importing country. However, certain basic details such as the drug name, manufacturer details, licence number, batch number, manufacturing date and best-before date must still appear on the package. This rule helps manufacturers export medicines while complying with the importing country's legal requirements.

The Exact Legal Text:

161A. Exemption in labelling and packing provisions for export of Ayurvedic (including Siddha) and Unani Drugs.—

(1) Label and packages or containers of Ayurvedic, Siddha and Unani Drugs for export may be adapted to meet the specific requirements of the law of the country to which the said drugs are to be exported, but the following particulars shall appear in conspicuous position on the container in which drug is packed and on every other covering in which that container is packed, namely:—

(a) name of the Ayurvedic, Siddha and Unani drug, whether single or compound formulation;

(b) the name, address of the manufacturer and the number of licence under which the drug has been manufactured;

(c) batch or lot number;

(d) date of manufacture, along with date for “Best for use before”;

(e) main ingredients, if required by the importing country;

(f) the words “FOR EXPORT”.

Provided that where Ayurvedic, Siddha and Unani single or compound drug not classified under the First Schedule or Schedule E(1), is required by the consignee to be not labelled with the name and address of the manufacturer, the labels on packages or containers shall bear a code number as approved by the licensing authority mentioned in Rule 152.

(2) The provisions of Rule 161 shall not apply to a medicine made up ready for treatment, whether after or without alteration, which is supplied on the prescription of a registered medical practitioner, if the medicine is labelled with the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the name and address of the suppliers;

(b) the words “For External Use Only”, if the medicine is for external application.
