

Title: Definition of Geographical Indication

Jurisdiction: India

Category: GI / Intellectual Property

Source Citation: The Geographical Indications of Goods (Registration and Protection) Act, 1999 — Section 2(e)

Plain English Summary:

A geographical indication (GI) identifies goods that come from a particular country, region, or locality and whose quality, reputation, or other characteristics are essentially connected to that geographical origin. For an Ayurvedic startup, this is useful when a product or ingredient has a recognized connection with a particular geographical region.

The Exact Legal Text:

“geographical indication”, in relation to goods, means an indication which identifies such goods as agricultural goods, natural goods or manufactured goods as originating, or manufactured in the territory of a country, or a region or locality in that territory, where a given quality, reputation or other characteristic of such goods is essentially attributable to its geographical origin and in case where such goods are manufactured goods one of the activities of either the production or of processing or preparation of the goods concerned takes place in such territory, region or locality, as the case may be.

Keywords/Triggers:

- What is a geographical indication?
- GI definition
- GI protection for Ayurvedic products
- Region-based Ayurvedic product
- Geographical origin
- GI eligibility
- Traditional regional products
- Ayurvedic GI